ASSET DISTRICT

Before You Begin.

Most acquisition problems are not problems of effort — they are problems of system. Founders who struggle to find clients are almost never lazy. They are operating without a repeatable process. This workbook builds that process. Work through it in order, with real numbers, and you will finish with a client acquisition machine that runs on structure — not luck, energy, or hope.

WORK IN ORDER

01

Each section builds on the one before. The Audit informs the Playbook. The Playbook feeds the Conversion System. Skipping produces shallow results.

USE REAL NUMBERS

02

Gut feelings don't build systems. Pull actual data — leads per month, conversion rates, client tenure. Estimate only when exact figures are unavailable.

BE SPECIFIC — ALWAYS

03

'I need more clients' is not a strategy. 'I need 3 qualified discovery calls per week from LinkedIn outreach' is. The specificity is the strategy.

SCORE YOURSELF HONESTLY

04

A 7 when you're performing at a 4 is a comfortable fiction. Score what is actually happening. The gap between your score and reality is where revenue is leaking.

ACTIVATE WITHIN 48 HOURS

05

A system that sits in a document is not a system — it is a plan. Pick one action and complete it before you close this workbook.

THE ASSET DISTRICT STANDARD:

"Precision is not optional. A system you don't trust is a system you won't use."

— Katarina Raskovic

SECTION 01

Acquisition Audit

Diagnose where your clients actually come from — before you build anything new.

The most common mistake in business development is adding new channels before understanding what is already working. This section gives you a precise picture of your current client pipeline — the sources, the gaps, and the annual cost of both.

CURRENT CLIENT SOURCES — Where are your paying clients actually coming from?

SOURCE / CHANNEL	CLIENTS (3m)	% OF REV.	EFFORT 1–10	TREND
Referrals / Word of mouth	_____	_____	_____	_____
LinkedIn / Social media	_____	_____	_____	_____
Inbound content / SEO	_____	_____	_____	_____
Cold outreach (DM / email)	_____	_____	_____	_____
Events / Networking	_____	_____	_____	_____
Paid advertising	_____	_____	_____	_____

ACQUISITION GAP CALCULATOR — What inaction costs you annually

A	TARGET monthly new clients	_____
B	ACTUAL monthly new clients (90-day average)	_____
C	GAP = A minus B	_____
D	Your average client value ($)	$ _____
E	ANNUAL COST OF GAP = C × D × 12	$ _____ ← This is what inaction costs

COST PER CLIENT — The number most founders have never calculated

Time spent on lead generation per week (hours) _____ hrs

Your hourly rate / value of your time ($) $ _____

Monthly time cost = hours × 4.3 × hourly rate $ _____

Monthly spend on ads / tools / events $ _____

New clients acquired per month (average) _____

COST PER CLIENT = (time cost + spend) ÷ new clients $ _____ ← Write this down

THE CHANNEL YOU ARE IGNORING — That your ideal client actually uses

Where does your ideal client spend the most time? (platform / community / publication)

Why have you not been consistently active there?

ACQUISITION AUDIT VERDICT

Your single biggest acquisition problem right now (not what you wish — what the numbers show):

A NOTE BEFORE YOU MOVE ON.

Most founders completing this audit will discover something uncomfortable: they have been generating leads — just not the right ones, or not consistently. That is not a failure. It is information. The discomfort is the signal that you are being honest. That is where real growth begins. Now build the system.

— Katarina Raskovic

SECTION 02

Lead Generation Playbook

A repeatable system for attracting premium clients — not chasing anyone.

Premium clients do not respond to desperation. They respond to clarity, consistency, and proof that you understand their world better than anyone else. This section builds your lead generation machine around three channels — not ten. Precision over volume, always.

THE 3-CHANNEL RULE — Pick three. Master them. Ignore everything else.

PRIMARY CHANNEL

Your highest-converting source — where your best clients have come from historically.

My channel:

Weekly activity target:

SECONDARY CHANNEL

Your growth channel — where your ideal client exists but you are underinvested.

My channel:

Weekly activity target:

REFERRAL CHANNEL

Your compounding channel — a structured system, not organic hope.

My channel:

Weekly activity target:

IDEAL CLIENT PRECISION PROFILE — Go deeper than you think you need to

Industry / niche:	Business stage:
Primary pain point:	Decision driver:
Budget range:	Where they spend time online:

Their exact words for the problem (use this language in your content and offers):

Why should they choose you? (Specific outcome — not a service list):

Publications, podcasts, or communities they actively follow:

CONTENT-TO-CLIENT PIPELINE — What to publish, where, and why it converts

AWARENESS content

Reaches new people. Teaches, challenges, or provokes. No selling.

Posts per week:

Platform(s):

My content idea:

AUTHORITY content

Demonstrates depth. Case studies, frameworks, results. Builds trust.

Posts per week:

Platform(s):

My content idea:

CONVERSION content

Makes the offer clear. What you do, who it's for, how to work with you.

Posts per week:

Platform(s):

My content idea:

OUTREACH FRAMEWORK — Cold, warm, and referral. Scripts for each.

COLD OUTREACH

Research first. Personalise always. Connect before you pitch.

Platform I will use:

Weekly target (personalised messages):

My opening line (specific, never generic):

WARM OUTREACH

Re-engage people who already know you. These convert at 3× the rate of cold.

My top 5 warm leads right now:

My follow-up message (value-first, ask second):

REFERRAL REQUEST

Ask directly. Vague referral hope is not a system.

My top 3 referral sources (name them):

My referral request script:

WEEKLY RHYTHM — Non-negotiable activity minimums

Monday:	Review pipeline. Identify 5 new targets. Send first contact messages.
Wednesday:	Follow up on all open conversations. Engage with ideal client content.
Friday:	Review numbers. Content published? Calls booked? Adjust next week.
Daily:	One content piece OR one genuine connection. Not both. Every day.

VISIBILITY SCORECARD — Are you findable by the right people?

1

My profile clearly states who I help and what outcome I produce

If someone lands cold, do they immediately understand who you serve?

2

My content speaks directly to my ideal client's real problems

Not your interests — their problems. There is a difference.

3

Someone who doesn't know me could understand what I do in 10 seconds

Clarity is a competitive advantage. Confusion is a conversion killer.

4

I show up consistently — not in bursts when I need clients

Consistency builds trust. Bursts signal desperation.

5

I have a clear next step for anyone who wants to learn more

A call link, a lead magnet, a DM invitation. Make the path obvious.

Visibility score out of 5: _____ Below 3 — fix your visibility before increasing outreach volume.

YOUR POSITIONING STATEMENT

I help _____ who struggle with _____ to achieve _____ within _____

YOUR ENTRY POINT — First step for someone interested in working with you

Discovery call / strategy call

30–60 min conversation — highest intent, fastest close

Lead magnet (free resource)

Attracts interested people — nurtures before the ask

Free audit / assessment

Demonstrates expertise immediately — strong conversion tool

Direct DM / email response

Low friction — requires active outreach to sustain

My primary entry point is:

The link / CTA I will add everywhere:

SECTION 03

Conversion System

Turn conversations into clients. Every time, on purpose.

Most founders don't lose clients at the top of the funnel — they lose them in the conversation. A disorganised discovery call, a proposal that undersells the outcome, a follow-up that never arrives — these are not bad luck. They are absent systems. This section closes every gap.

CONVERSION RATE CALCULATOR — Find exactly where you are losing people

STAGE	YOUR RATE	INDUSTRY AVG	HEALTHY	EXCEPTIONAL
Leads / Inquiries	100% baseline	—	—	—
Discovery calls booked	___% of leads	20–40%	40%+	60%+
Proposals sent	___% of calls	60–80%	80%+	90%+
Proposals accepted	___% of proposals	30–60%	50%+	65%+
Repeat / referral	___% of clients	40–70%	60%+	80%+

"Discovery-to-proposal below 60%? Your positioning is the problem. Proposal-to-close below 30%? Your pricing or follow-up is the problem."

DISCOVERY CALL FRAMEWORK — Structure, questions, close

0–5 MIN OPEN	Set the agenda. 'Here's how I'd like to use our time today...' My key question for this phase:
5–20 MIN DIAGNOSE	Ask, don't pitch. Understand fully before offering anything. My key question for this phase:
20–35 MIN POSITION	Share your approach. Connect it to what they just told you. My key question for this phase:
35–45 MIN CLOSE	Name the next step. Don't leave without a decision or a date. My key question for this phase:

THE 5 QUESTIONS THAT CLOSE MORE CALLS THAN ANY PITCH

Q1	What does success look like for you in the next 90 days?
Q2	What have you already tried — and why didn't it work?
Q3	What is the cost of this problem staying as it is for another 6 months?
Q4	What would change in your business if this were completely solved?
Q5	What would need to be true for you to move forward today?

OBJECTION MAP — The 6 objections premium clients raise. Handle each with precision."It's too expensive."

Redirect to value: 'What is the cost of this staying as it is?' Price is only an objection when the outcome is not clear.

"I need to think about it."

Name what's holding them: 'Of course — what specifically?' Never leave it open-ended.

"I need to speak to my partner."

Bring them in: 'Can we schedule a short call together? I want them to have the full picture.'

"Now isn't the right time."

Explore: 'When would be? And what needs to change between now and then?'

"Can you do it for less?"

Never discount without reducing scope. 'I can adjust scope to match a different budget — what would you remove?'

"I'm not sure I need this."

Return to cost: 'What changes if this problem is still here in six months?' Urgency is always about cost.

PROPOSAL STRUCTURE THAT CONVERTS — What most founders get wrong01 THE PROBLEM

State their problem back in their own words. This proves you listened.

02 THE OUTCOME

What will be different after working with you. Specific, measurable, real.

03 THE APPROACH

How you'll get them there. A process — not a list of deliverables.

04 THE INVESTMENT

State the price clearly. Don't apologise. Don't bury it on the last page.

05 THE NEXT STEP

One action. A date. Not 'let me know what you think.'

FOLLOW-UP SEQUENCE — Day 1 · Day 3 · Day 7. After that: move on.

DAY 1: Confirmation + value add. Send something genuinely useful. No pressure.

DAY 3: Check in briefly. Ask if they have questions. Make it easy to respond.

DAY 7: Final follow-up. 'I want to close the space for you either way.'

AFTER: No response: move to nurture list. Never chase past Day 7.

SECTION 04

Retention & Referral Engine

The most expensive thing you do is acquire a client — then lose them after one transaction.

Every business leaks revenue. The most damaging leak is the one nobody talks about: clients who leave — not because they were unhappy, but because you had no system to keep them. Retention is not about over-delivering. It is about consistent, deliberate contact at the right moments.

CLIENT LIFETIME VALUE CALCULATOR — What each relationship is actually worth

A	Average transaction / project value ($)	$ _____
B	Average transactions per client per year	_____
C	Average client relationship length (years)	_____ yrs
D	CURRENT LIFETIME VALUE = A × B × C	$ _____
E	TARGET Lifetime Value (what you want it to be)	$ _____
F	LTV GAP per client = E minus D	$ _____
G	TOTAL LTV OPPORTUNITY = F × active clients	$ _____ ← The real number

CLIENT ONBOARDING SEQUENCE — The first 72 hours set the entire relationship

HOUR 0	Confirmation sent immediately. What they've signed, what happens next, your contact. My action / message: _____
DAY 1	Welcome message — personal, specific. Reference something from your actual conversation. My action / message: _____
DAY 2	Practical onboarding — access, tools, timeline, first clear deliverable. My action / message: _____
DAY 7	First check-in. How are they feeling? Any questions? Show you are paying attention. My action / message: _____
DAY 30	First formal review. Are we on track? Is the outcome still clear for both parties? My action / message: _____

RETENTION SCORECARD — 8 factors that determine whether clients stay1*Clients know what to expect and when at every stageClarity reduces anxiety. Anxiety kills retention.2*I check in proactively — not only when clients reach outProactive contact signals you value the relationship, not just the invoice.3*I track client results and can name them specificallyIf you don't know their results, you can't protect their retention.4*I have a formal offboarding process that opens the door to returnA good ending is the beginning of the next engagement.5*Clients have a clear upsell path when they are ready for moreThe best time to sell is when they have already experienced your value.6*I ask for feedback — and act on it visiblyClients stay where they feel heard. Make the feedback loop obvious.7*My communication is consistent, not reactiveReactive communication signals chaos. Consistency signals system.8*Clients feel genuine access to me — not just to my outputPeople buy outcomes from people they trust. Trust requires contact.*

Score out of 8: _____ Below 5 — fix your retention system before scaling acquisition.

RE-ENGAGEMENT FRAMEWORK — How to bring back clients who went quietIDENTIFY

List every client from the last 18 months with no contact in 90+ days.

REASON TO REACH OUT

Find a genuine reason — a result they had, something relevant to their world.

THE MESSAGE

Personal. Short. No pitch. 'I was thinking about you because [specific reason]...'

THE ASK

After genuine reconnection only: 'I have capacity — would it be useful to reconnect?'

REFERRAL SYSTEM — Structured, systematic, never awkward

Referrals do not happen because clients like you. They happen because you made it easy, specific, and rewarding to refer you. Vague referral hope is not a system. This is.

WHO TO ASK —

Your top 5 clients right now — the ones who see real results and already talk about it.

WHEN TO ASK —

After a win. After a positive check-in. Never at the start of a relationship.

HOW TO ASK —

'I'm looking to work with more [type of client]. Do you know anyone who might benefit?'

HOW TO MAKE IT EASY —

Give them a one-sentence description they can copy and paste. Remove all friction.

HOW TO ACKNOWLEDGE IT —

Thank them specifically. Tell them what happened. Close the loop every time.

UPSELL & CROSS-SELL PATH — Increase client value without selling harder

What is the logical next step after your core offer — and do clients know it exists?

What problem does your ideal client have after solving the first one?

What could you offer at a higher price point to the right client?

What would a retainer or bundled version of your service look like?

THE RETENTION TRUTH.

In motorsport, a race won on Day 1 is meaningless if the car doesn't finish. Every client you keep is a client you don't have to find. Retention is not a relationship skill — it is a business strategy. The founders who understand this are the ones who compound. Build the system. Then trust it.

— Katarina Raskovic

SECTION 05

30-Day Activation Plan

The system means nothing until it runs. This is week one through four.

Every section of this workbook has produced a decision, a number, or a framework. This section turns all of it into a 30-day operating plan. In sequence. Each week builds on the one before.

- ☐ Tell one person your target today. Say it out loud. Make it real.
- ☐ Set your 30-day target: number of discovery calls, not revenue (yet)
- ☐ Audit your visibility: profile, bio, content — does it speak to the right person?
- ☐ Deep-clean your ideal client profile — be obsessively specific
- ☐ Choose your 3 channels: primary, secondary, referral
- ☐ Complete the Acquisition Audit — pull real numbers

WEEK 1

AUDIT & SETUP

Days 1–7

- ☐ Score yourself: are you executing daily or reacting to life?
- ☐ Have your call framework ready before the first call — not after
- ☐ Book your first 2 discovery calls this week
- ☐ Follow up with every warm lead from the last 90 days — value first
- ☐ Publish 3 pieces of content that speak to your ideal client's problem
- ☐ Send 5 personalised outreach messages on your primary channel — every day

WEEK 2

OUTREACH BEGINS

Days 8–14

- ☐ Make one adjustment if something isn't working. Measure for 7 days.
- ☐ Identify your 3 best referral sources and send re-engagement messages
- ☐ Continue outreach — do not stop because you have calls in the pipeline
- ☐ Begin follow-up sequence: Day 1, Day 3, Day 7
- ☐ Send proposals within 24 hours of every call — never more than 48
- ☐ Run all booked calls using the Section 03 framework

WEEK 3

CALLS & CONVERSION

Days 15–21

- ☐ Complete the 30-Day Debrief — the month is not closed until this is done
- ☐ Review Sections 02–04: what needs to be built or strengthened?
- ☐ Set Month 2 targets based on data — not what you hoped
- ☐ Document what worked: channel, message, conversion move
- ☐ Close, defer, or cut every open thread. Leave nothing ambiguous.
- ☐ Follow up on all open proposals — every one gets a decision or a date

WEEK 4

CLOSE & SYSTEMATISE

Days 22–30

KPI Tracking Dashboard.

Review every Friday. 15 minutes. Numbers don't lie.
